Good for the bees, good for Ghana

HELP SAVE THE BEES

Bees for development

The main charity that we support with sales of our Bee Lovely range is Bees for Development

Bees for Development has introduced bee colonies into cashew orchards in Ghana to boost harvests, after low yields were found to be a result of poor pollination.

This unique project benefits both bee populations and farmers and the results are staggering, with yields doubling in previous studies, plus farmers earn valuable additional income from honey. Bees for Development identify and support cashew growers who are most vulnerable and most in need.

Last year we donated £9,000 to the project to begin providing training, support and hives for the cashew farmers. Over the next year we want to raise a further £26,000 for this project through sales of our Bee Lovely range, to support 100 cashew farmers to each install ten hives.
